DRAMATIS PERSONÆ.

DALAND.	(Captain of Norwegian ship.)	Basso.
SENTA.	(his daughter.)	Soprano.
ERIK.	(a forester.)	Tenore.
MARY.	(Senta's nurse.)	Contralto.
HELMSMAN.	(of Norwegian ship.)	Tenore.
VAN DER DECKEN.	(The Flying Dutchman.)	Baritono.

Crew of the Norwegian vessel, Crew of the Flying Dutchman, Village maidens.

The Scenes are on the Norwegian coast.

* * * First performed in English by the Carl Rosa Company at the Lyceum Theatre on the 3rd October, 1876.

DALAND, a Norwegian skipper, driven to a barren gulf by stress of weather, meets with a ship of strange appearance. On questioning the Captain of his whereabouts he learns how he, a Dutch seaman, in endeavouring once to round a Cape in a fearful storm had defied even Satan to prevent him, whereupon the fiend as a punishment for his daring doomed him to wander for ever on the ocean. Once in seven years he is allowed to touch land for a brief period, during which time his doom is alleviated by the hope of meeting with some woman so devoted as to yield herself up to him, and thus break the spell.

Daland, moved by the doleful tale and tempted by the sight of the treasures shown by the Dutchman, offers him hospitality in his home and his daughter Senta for a wife. Arrived at Daland's home, Senta is struck with the appearance of the stranger. She had long known the legend of the Flying Dutchman and felt pity for the illfated seaman. To the proposal, therefore, that she should become his wife she readily assents. All being prepared for the nuptials, Senta has an interview with her former lover, Erik, and bids him farewell, but the Dutchman surprising them and mistaking their meeting for an exchange of love, conceives himself betrayed, whereupon he rushes on board his ship and sets sail. Senta, finding all explanation and entreaty vain, throws herself into the sea and tries to follow her betrothed. By this act of devotion the spell is broken, the phantom ship sinks with her crew, and the Dutchman emerging from the waves with Senta in his arms is saved.

This page contains seven systems of musical notation, each consisting of a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The music is written in a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, beams, slurs, and dynamic markings.

The dynamics and markings across the systems are as follows:

- System 1: f (forte) in the bass staff; cresc. (crescendo) in the treble staff.
- System 2: f (forte) in the bass staff.
- System 3: mf cresc. (mezzo-forte, crescendo) in the bass staff.
- System 4: piu f (pizzicato forte) in the bass staff; ff (fortissimo) in the treble staff.
- System 5: f (forte) in the bass staff.
- System 6: ff (fortissimo) in the bass staff.
- System 7: ff (fortissimo) in the bass staff.

The notation is highly detailed, with many notes beamed together and various slurs indicating phrasing. The page is a high-quality reproduction of a musical score.

First system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (ff) dynamic. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

Second system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff continues the melodic and harmonic development.

Third system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (f) dynamic and a tremolo effect. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

Fourth system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (f) dynamic and a tremolo effect. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

Fifth system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (f) dynamic and a tremolo effect. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

Sixth system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (f) dynamic and a tremolo effect. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

Seventh system of musical notation for piano. The treble staff begins with a piano (p) dynamic and a crescendo (cresc.) marking. The bass staff features a forte (f) dynamic and a tremolo effect. The music includes various articulations such as accents and slurs.

This page of musical notation is for the opera "Der Fliegende Holländer". It consists of seven systems of piano accompaniment, each with a treble and bass staff. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 6/4. The notation includes various musical elements:

- First System: Features piano (p) dynamics and triplet markings.
- Second System: Continues the piano texture with triplet markings.
- Third System: Includes the instruction un poco cresc. (a little crescendo).
- Fourth System: Includes the instruction più cresc. (more crescendo).
- Fifth System: Features a forte (f) dynamic in the bass staff and a piano (p) dynamic in the treble staff.
- Sixth System: Includes the instruction f cresc. (forte crescendo).
- Seventh System: Ends with a pp (pianissimo) dynamic and a tremolo marking in the bass staff.

Musical score for piano accompaniment, likely from a Wagner opera. The score is written in B-flat major and 4/4 time. It consists of eight systems, each with a treble and bass staff. The notation includes various dynamics such as f, cresc., più f, ff, p, and dim.. The music features complex chords, triplets, and various articulations like accents and slurs.

First system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: f, dim., p.

Second system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: cresc., f.

Third system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: mf dim., p.

Fourth system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: dim..

Fifth system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: fp, cresc., dim..

Sixth system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: fp dim., f.

Seventh system of musical notation. Treble and bass staves. Dynamics: p, cresc., fp cresc..

This page of musical notation is for a piano piece, likely from Wagner's Der Fliegende Holländer. It consists of seven systems of music, each with a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The time signature is 6/4. The notation includes various dynamics and performance instructions:

- System 1: Starts with a forte (f) dynamic in the bass and piano (p) in the treble. The piece ends with a 6/4 time signature change.
- System 2: Continues with f and p dynamics.
- System 3: Features a forte (f) dynamic and the instruction sempre più f (always more forte).
- System 4: Continues the melodic and harmonic development.
- System 5: Includes a fortissimo (ff) maestoso (majestic) section, followed by a dim. (diminuendo) and tremolo section. A Ped. (pedal) marking is present, and the system ends with an asterisk (*).
- System 6: Starts with a piano (p) dynamic and includes a cresc. (crescendo) marking.
- System 7: Features a forte (f) cresc. marking, followed by a dim. (diminuendo) and a p cresc. (piano crescendo) marking.

This image shows a page of a musical score, likely for a piano. The score is written on multiple systems of staves, with various musical notations, dynamics, and articulations. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The score includes a variety of musical elements such as chords, arpeggios, and melodic lines. Dynamics like cresc., ff, maestoso, dim., p, and Vivace are used throughout. There are also markings for tremolo and Ped. (pedal). The score is divided into sections by repeat signs and includes a tempo change to Vivace at the bottom right, marked with a tempo of 92. The page is numbered 5 in the top right corner.

The musical score is written for piano and orchestra. The piano part is in the upper staves, and the orchestra part is in the lower staves. The key signature is D major (two sharps). The tempo is marked 'Allegretto'. The score includes various dynamics such as più f, f, and sempre f. There are also articulations like accents (^) and slurs. The piano part features a melodic line with many slurs and accents, while the orchestra part provides a rhythmic and harmonic foundation with chords and moving lines.

Allegro con brio. (♩ = 72.)

PIANO-FORTE.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of six systems of staves. The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The tempo is Allegro con brio with a quarter note equal to 72 beats per minute. The score begins with a mf (mezzo-forte) dynamic and includes various musical markings such as cresc. sempre (crescendo sempre), più f (più forte), ff (fortissimo), and f (forte). The notation includes complex rhythmic patterns, triplets, and sixteenth-note passages. The score concludes with a ff dynamic and a cresc. marking.

ACT II.

INTRODUCTION.

Allegro vivace (♩ = 63.)

PIANO-
FORTE.

The musical score is written for piano and forte dynamics. It begins with a tempo marking of Allegro vivace (♩ = 63.) and a dynamic marking of ff. The score is divided into several systems, each with a grand staff (treble and bass clef). The music features a variety of rhythmic patterns, including eighth and sixteenth notes, and rests. There are several instances of octaves, marked with "8va..." and "loco". The score also includes various musical notations such as slurs, ties, and dynamic markings like ff and ff. The key signature is one flat (B-flat).

The image shows a page of musical notation, likely a score for a piano piece. It consists of eight systems of staves. The first system has a treble and bass staff. The second system has a treble and bass staff. The third system has a treble and bass staff. The fourth system has a treble and bass staff. The fifth system has a treble and bass staff. The sixth system has a treble and bass staff. The seventh system has a treble and bass staff. The eighth system has a treble and bass staff. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The page is numbered 80 at the bottom.

SCENE, CHORUS AND BALLAD.

(Ein grosses Zimmer im Hause Daland's; an der Wand Bilder von Seegegenständen, Karten u.s.w. An der Hinterwand das Bildniss eines bleichen Mannes mit dunklem Barte und in schwarzer spanischer Tracht. Mary und die Mädchen sitzen um den Kamin und spinnen.—Senta, in einem Grossvaterstuhle zurückgelehnt, ist in träumerisches Anschauen des Bildnisses an der Hinterwand versunken.)

(A room in Daland's house. Marine views, maps, charts, etc., hung on the walls. On the wall at the back, is hung the portrait of a man, pale, with dark beard, dressed in Spanish costume. Mary and the maidens are discovered spinning. Senta is in contemplation of the portrait.)

The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in two systems. The first system consists of a single staff with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a common time signature (C). It begins with a whole rest, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and ends with a final cadence. The second system consists of two staves, both with a common time signature (C). The upper staff has a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat), while the lower staff has a bass clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). Both staves begin with a whole rest, followed by a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, and end with a final cadence. The score is written in a style typical of 19th-century musical notation, with a focus on melody and harmony.

ACT III.

INTRODUCTION.

Allegro molto (♩ = 88.)

PIANO-
FORTE.

The musical score is written for piano and forte, featuring a variety of musical notations and dynamics. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is common time (C). The score is divided into several systems, each with a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The first system begins with a forte (f) dynamic and a tempo marking of Allegro molto (♩ = 88.). The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The third system features a forte (f) dynamic with accents and a decrescendo (dim.) marking. The fourth system starts with a piano (pp) dynamic and a tremolo marking. The fifth system includes a poco a poco cresc. (poco a poco crescendo) marking. The sixth system continues the piano accompaniment. The seventh system features a più cresc. (più crescendo) marking. The eighth system ends with a più f (più forte) marking. The score is a full page of music, with a total of 8 measures.

(Seebucht mit felsigem Gestade; das Haus Daland's zur Seite im Vordergrund. Den Hintergrund nehmen, ziemlich nah bei einander liegend, die beiden schiffe, das des Norweger's und des Holländer's ein. Helle Nacht: das norwegische Schiff ist erleuchtet; die Matrosen desselben sind auf dem Verdeck—Jubel und Freude. Die Haltung des holländischen Schiffes bietet einen unheimlichen Contrast: eine unnatürliche Finsterniss ist über dasselbe ausgebreitet; es herrscht Todtenstille auf ihm.)
 (A bay with rocky strand; on one side, in the foreground is Daland's house. The two ships of the Norwegian and the Dutchman, lying pretty close to each other, occupy the background. The night is bright and clear. The sailors are on the deck very happy and jolly. The Dutch ship presents a peculiar and gloomy contrast; an unnatural darkness is spread about it, and a deathlike stillness reigns on board.)

(Das Meer, welches sonst überall ruhig bleibt, hat sich im Umkreis des holländischen Schiffes zu heben begonnen; eine dunkel bläuliche Flamme lodert in diesem als Wachtfeuer auf; heftiger Sturmwind pfeift durch die Tauen; die Mannschaft, von der man zuvor nichts sah, hat sich beim Leuchten der Flamme belebt.)

(The sea which elsewhere remains perfectly calm, has commenced to be agitated in the vicinity of the Dutch ship, which now rises and falls with the motion of the waves. A dark blue flame as watch-fire is seen upon it. The storm pipes through the ships rigging. The crew, which has hitherto not been seen, seems to have been called to life by the mysterious flame.)

The image shows a page from a musical score for the song "Die Bucht" by Franz Schubert. The score is written for voice and piano. It features two systems of music. The first system has a vocal melody at the top and a piano accompaniment below it. The second system continues the vocal melody and includes a piano solo section. The lyrics are in both German and English. The key signature is D major (two sharps) and the time signature is 4/4. The piano part includes dynamic markings like f (forte) and loco. There are also some performance instructions like 8va (octave up). The paper appears aged, with some staining and wear visible. The handwriting is in a classic style typical of 19th-century musical notation. The overall layout is clean, with clear staves and legible text. The image captures a single page, likely from a larger manuscript or printed edition. The focus is on the musical notation and the bilingual lyrics, providing a visual representation of the original work's presentation. The image is oriented horizontally, showing the flow of the music from left to right across the staves. The lighting is even, highlighting the details of the ink and the texture of the paper. The image serves as a historical document, preserving the composer's original intentions and the collaborative effort between Schubert and his librettist. The inclusion of both German and English lyrics makes it accessible to a wider audience, reflecting the international appeal of Schubert's music. The image is a faithful reproduction of the original score, capturing its essence and providing a valuable resource for musicians and scholars alike. The image is a high-resolution scan, ensuring that all details of the notation and text are clearly visible. The image is presented in a standard orientation, making it easy to read and understand. The image is a single-page view, focusing on the specific section of the score shown. The image is a black and white reproduction, emphasizing the musical notation and the text over the color of the original paper. The image is a detailed and accurate representation of the musical score for "Die Bucht," providing a comprehensive view of its structure and content.

The image shows a page from a musical score, likely for a piano accompaniment. It features three systems of music. The first system consists of a treble and bass staff with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature (C). The melody in the treble staff is simple, with notes corresponding to the lyrics 'Schwar - zer Haupt - mann, Gloo - my Cap - tain,'. The bass staff provides a simple harmonic accompaniment. The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The third system shows a more complex accompaniment in the bass staff, with a dynamic marking of ff (fortissimo) and a crescendo marking p cresc. (piano crescendo). The treble staff in the third system has a melodic line with many beamed sixteenth notes, suggesting a more active role for the piano in this section.

(Die norwegischen Matrosen, durch den Sturm und das Toben des immer wilder gewordenen Spukes zum Schweigen gebracht, verlassen von Grausen übermanni ihr Verdeck, indem sie das Zeichen des Kreuzes schlagen; die Mannschaft des Holländers, als sie dies gewahrt, schlägt ein gellendes Hohngelächter auf:—sogleich herrscht auf ihrem Schiffe die frühere Todtenstille,—dicke Finsterniss ist wieder über dasselbe ausgebreitet; Luft und Meer sind ruhig, wie zuvor.)

(The Norwegian Sailors awed by the raging of the sea, the howling and piping of the unnatural storm, the song of the Dutchmen growing wilder and louder, and the ghostly-like appearance of the strange vessel, are silent. They make the sign of the cross and leave the deck; the Dutch crew, seeing this, set up a shrill and taunting laugh. The greatest silence again prevails on the Dutch ship as before, the vessel is enveloped in the gloom, air and sea in the next moment are calm as before.)

(Sie stürzt sich in das Meer,—sogleich versinkt das Schiff des Holländer's mit aller Mannschaft. D's Meer schwillt hoch auf und sinkt in einem Würbel wieder zurück. Im Glühroth der aufgehenden Sonne sieht man über den Trümmern des Schiffes die verklärten Gestalten Senta's und des Holländer's sich umhungen haltend dem Meere entsteigen und aufwärt's schweben.
(She springs into the sea, at the same moment the Dutchman's ship sinks with all hands. In the glow of the rising sun, above the wreck of the ship are seen the glorified forms of Senta and the Dutchman, held in each other's embrace, rising heavenwards out of the sea.)

The musical score is written for piano and voice. It begins with a vocal line in the soprano register, marked "Tod! death!". The piano accompaniment is in a minor key, featuring a driving, rhythmic pattern in the right hand and a more melodic line in the left hand. The score is divided into several systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The piano accompaniment includes various dynamic markings such as ff, fff, sempre f, and loco. The vocal line is marked with various ornaments and slurs, indicating a highly expressive performance. The score concludes with a final chord in the piano accompaniment.
